

eLearning

What is eLearning?

eLearning at U21Global refers to the use of the Internet for the delivery of subject materials, as well as the facilitation of interaction between and among students and professors. Students access online classrooms, which provide course content and a variety of communication features, including message boards, threaded discussions and chat rooms. In short, eLearning refers to a virtual campus with the full benefits of traditional on-campus learning that is accessible to students any time, anywhere they have access to the Internet.

What are the advantages of eLearning?

eLearning is student-centred, flexible and convenient. With the ease of online delivery, the emphasis in the educational process shifts from teaching to learning. Students do not have to follow a prescribed pattern and there is more scope for learning according to their own preferred style. In the online environment, everyone has an equal opportunity to participate in class discussions.

How do online subjects work?

Each U21Global subject takes 12 weeks to complete, plus an additional week for the final exam. A lead professor and subject professor will guide students through the subject content and exercises, which are completely online. The subjects cover all aspects of traditional, classroom-based learning through the creative use of a variety of communication methods, such as email, message boards, threaded discussions and chat rooms. Students progress by actively engaging in reading, reflecting and interactive problem-solving, often in groups.

Our student support includes enrolment counselling, a comprehensive and interactive online student orientation, a student handbook, 24/7 technical support, career counselling and alumni services.

Qualifications and Credit Transfer

Can I transfer my credits to another University?

U21Global is already recognised by its partner universities, as well as other universities with equal standing. Credit transfer to another university's programme, however, is always dependent on the individual university's academic policies.

Can I progress from the Postgraduate Certificate programme to the full MBA?

Yes. The Postgraduate Certificate programme is a stand-alone graduate qualification which may also be credited towards the full MBA degree programme. This means that upon successful completion of the Postgraduate Certificate programme, students will have the option of enrolling for the MBA with advanced standing, transferring the credit already earned.
